Dear Stakeholder:

The Energy Commission recognizes that as a new standard becomes effective there are often common implementation questions about certification and the adopted regulations. The Energy Commission recently adopted regulations for battery charger systems and self-contained lighting controls. The Energy Commission is working to create a frequently asked questions (FAQ) document to aid in the implementation of these regulations. The Energy Commission requests stakeholder input regarding which questions would be useful to include in the FAQ. If you are interested in providing input to subjects addressed in the FAQ please e-mail appliances@energy.ca.gov and use "FAQ" as the subject line. The Commission will consider input received before or on February 29, 2012 in creating this initial FAQ. Thank you in advance for your participation.

Sincerely,
