Dear California Energy Commission,

I am writing as a concerned citizen of Carlsbad about the fate of the previously approved power plant to be built just off the five freeway. As a young resident, born and raised in the city, I am not convinced of the necessity for such a radical step toward creating more energy for consumption. Where will the line be drawn and responsibility for our energy consumption be accepted? Surely providing a new plant will keep the cost of energy lower and provide for the county as far as demand, but as a concerned citizen I want to see that this need is in fact legitimate and that our beautiful ocean views are not being forgone by apathy of a public unwilling to conserve. Please hear my opposition to the building of this plant and consider our community's well-being and livelihood in the following hearings.

Sincerely,
