A Successful New Approach to LNG Projects

March 2007

David Maul

Consultant to Esperanza Energy LLC
President, Maul Energy Advisors

This presentation dated March 2007 contains material non-public information about Esperanza Energy LLC and/or its affiliates, including its parent company, Tidelands Oil & Gas Corporation (collectively, "Esperanza"). Recipient acknowledges that it is aware (and that its agents, employees and representatives who are apprised of this matter have been advised) that U.S. securities laws prohibit any person or entity in possession of material non-public information about a company from purchasing or selling securities of such company. Recipient agrees to use such information in accordance with its compliance policies, contractual obligations, and all applicable laws, including federal and state securities laws.

This presentation is being furnished solely for purposes of Recipient's evaluating a business relationship with Esperanza. By delivering this document, Esperanza is not incurring any obligation to Recipient with respect to any aspect of the project described herein (the "Project") or with respect to any transaction related thereto, including, without limitation, any obligations for damages or expenses for failure to enter into any transaction related to the Project.

Recipient acknowledges the terms of this confidentiality notice ("Confidentiality Notice") and will be deemed to have agreed to the provisions hereof. If Recipient is not willing to accept this presentation and other confidential information on the terms set forth in this Confidentiality Notice, Recipient is required to return this document and any other confidential information to Esperanza. In the event that Recipient and Esperanza enter into a separate confidentiality agreement with respect to the Project subsequent to Recipient's acceptance of this presentation and there is any conflict between such subsequent confidentiality agreement and the provisions of this Confidentiality Notice that directly relate to Recipient's obligation to keep confidential the information contained herein, the conflicting terms of such subsequent confidentiality agreement shall govern.

As used herein: "Confidential Information" refers to this presentation and any other information regarding Esperanza or the Project furnished or communicated to Recipient by or on behalf of Esperanza with respect to the Project (whether prepared or communicated by Esperanza, its advisors or otherwise). Recipient acknowledges that Esperanza considers the Confidential Information to include confidential and proprietary information and agrees that it shall use reasonable precautions in accordance with its established procedures to keep the Confidential Information confidential; provided however that (i) it may make any disclosure of such information to which Esperanza gives its prior written consent and (ii) any of such information may be disclosed to its partners, directors, officers, employees, agents, counsel, auditors, affiliates, advisors and representatives (collectively, "Representatives") (it being understood that such Representatives shall be informed by it of the confidential nature of such information and shall be directed by the Recipient to treat such information in accordance with the terms of this Confidentiality Notice). Recipient agrees to be responsible for any breach of this Confidentiality Notice that results from the actions or omissions of its Representatives.

Recipient shall be permitted to disclose the Confidential Information in the event that it is required by law or regulation or requested by any governmental agency or other regulatory authority (including any self regulatory organization having or claiming to have jurisdiction) or in connection with any legal proceedings. The Recipient agrees that it will notify Esperanza as soon as practical in the event of any such disclosure (other than at the request of a regulatory authority), unless such notification shall be prohibited by applicable law or legal process. Recipient shall have no obligation hereunder with respect to any Confidential Information to the extent that such information (i) is or becomes generally available to the public other than as a result of a disclosure by the Recipient or its Representatives in violation of this agreement, or (ii) was within the Recipient's possession prior to its being furnished pursuant hereto or is or becomes available to the Recipient on a non-confidential basis from a source other than the Borrower or its Representatives, provided that the source of such information was not known by the Recipient to be bound by a confidentiality agreement with other contractual, legal or fiduciary obligation of confidentiality to the Borrower or any other party with respect to such information.
