(Discuss importance in terms of historical or architectural context as defined by theme, period, and geographic scope. Also address integrity.)

These structures are located in the City of Huntington Park, in a neighborhood comprised of both residential and commercial/industrial buildings. The style is that of Minimal Traditional/Vernacular. From the exterior, the structures appear to be in fair to poor condition. There are 3 structures on the property, each consisting of 3 1-bedroom/1 bath units.

The integrity of this property is high. However, it is not a particularly good example of the architectural style or of a method of construction. Research of available historical records has not uncovered any significant associations of the occupants.
