2. The United States Department of Energy (U.S. DOE) is an agency that ensures America's security and prosperity by addressing its energy, environmental and nuclear challenges through transformative science and technology solutions.

3.2 Payam Bozorgchami, a Senior Civil Engineer in the Efficiency Division, will represent California on the Merit Review Panel for proposals submitted in response to the federal funding opportunity for Buildings Energy Efficiency Frontiers & Innovation Technologies (BENEFIT). BENEFIT perfectly corresponds with California's goals for zero net energy buildings and expanded renewable energy to assist in California's effort on climate change. Participation in BENEFIT helps the Energy Commission in knowing the newest technologies being proposed for future development by U.S.DOE.
