Notice of Petroleum Market Advisory Committee Meeting

The Petroleum Market Advisory Committee (PMAC), an advisory body created by the California Energy Commission, will conduct a meeting to hear presentations on California gasoline price volatility and to discuss policy alternatives for mitigating the same. Specifically, the Committee will meet to discuss ways to improve data transparency in the gasoline and diesel markets in California. The PMAC is looking to develop and discuss recommendations it can make to state policy makers that will provide the public additional clarity on petroleum market activities.

Members of the PMAC, Commissioner Janea A. Scott, and other Energy Commission Commissioners, may attend and participate.

Background

The California Energy Commission established the Petroleum Market Advisory Committee to better understand factors and conditions related to petroleum price fluctuations, impacts on consumers, and policy options that may affect markets.

The committee consists of five petroleum fuels market experts appointed by the Energy Commission. These leading energy economists and experts provide the Energy Commission and state regulators with independent advice and insights on issues affecting the market, from local policies to global events.

Agenda

Refer to the last two pages of this notice for agenda (pages 5-6).

Public Comment

Oral comments: The Committee will accept oral comments during the meeting. Comments may be limited to three minutes per speaker. Any comments will become part of the public record in this proceeding.

Written comments: Written comments should be submitted to the Dockets Unit by 4:00 p.m. on May 6, 2016. Written comments will be also accepted at the meeting; however, the Committee may not have time to review them before the conclusion of the meeting.
